

Police Knowledge Fund

Developing police-academic research collaborations

14 collaborations

 39
police forces

30 academic institutions

“ I strongly believe that this has been the most important innovation in policing during my service... using methods that can be empirically shown to work is vital... leads to innovation and creativity and helps align some of the best minds in the country to challenging policing problems. ”

Inspector

“ The co-creation of the research by academics and practitioners... resulted in research that is of real practical value... while at the same time developed by academic knowledge. ”

Detective Sergeant

- 14,000+ accessed online learning resources
- 500+ workshop & short course attendees
- 220+ police postgraduate students
- 200+ short practitioner research projects
- 50+ fellowships and secondments

